

Dr. Thomas is a practicing cardiologist in Bradenton who has been involved in the community and professional organizations for over two decades. He believes strongly in the value of education for every citizen. He is a founder, president and CEO of Bradenton Cardiology Center, a full-service cardiology practice with ten active physicians. He served as Chief of Cardiology, Chief of Medicine, Chief of Staff and member of the Board of Directors of Manatee Memorial Hospital, where he is an active staff member. He was president of the Manatee County Medical Society, a member of the Board of Directors of the Manatee Chamber of Commerce, and Manatee Community Blood Bank. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Florida Medical Association, Delegate of the American Medical Association, and Co-Vice Chair of the Florida delegation to the AMA. He is also a member of the Knight Foundation Advisory Board in Bradenton. He was appointed to the State Board of Community Colleges by Governor Jeb Bush, and a member of the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute Board of NIH by President Bush. He has served as president and trustee of the American Association of Physicians of Indian Origin, and also chair of the International Medical Graduate Section of the American Medical Association. He is fellow of the American College of Cardiology and serves on the Governmental Relations Committee of the Florida Chapter. Dr. Thomas is a dedicated family man, married to Mary for over thirty years with four boys, George Jr., Joseph, Mathew and Jacob.