

CHARTER SCHOOL APPEAL COMMISSION RECOMMENDATION

RE: The Believer's School of Learning vs. The School Board of Bradford County

The Charter School Appeal Commission voted 7-3 to overturn the decision of the Bradford County School Board because they did not agree with the district that the program was lacking uniqueness and innovation and that any financial management issues could be overcome with technical assistance to both the District and Charter School.