District-Level Leadership

District-level administrators must look at schools on an individual basis and distribute resources based on students’ and teachers’ levels of need. To describe the district system for monitoring reading instruction that differentiates school-level services, please address the following.

1. Districts should match or exceed the State Board goals for increasing FSA-ELA achievement by six percentile points, increasing the percentage of students making learning gains on the FSA-ELA by seven percentile points and reducing the achievement gap for the identified sub groups on the FSA-ELA by at least one-third by 2020. Please fill out the charts below with the actual results from the 2015-2016, 2016-2017 and 2017-2018 FSA-ELA and the interim district goals for 2020 identified in the 2017-2018 Comprehensive Reading Plan.

2. Explain how expenditures from the allocation are expected to impact student achievement in relation to your district goals.

District goals for student achievement are reviewed upon receipt of the FSA scores each year. We also review data Renaissance Universal screener (STAR) to help determine the reading needs of our students. Through analyzing data, a grade level reading flow chart of district approved programs has been created to provide guidance to our schools and assure continuity of instruction. This reading decision tree flow chart aligns with the MTSS process and helps assure equality of resources for every students. The allocation will pay for the designated reading teachers for our neediest students, help with the cost of literacy programs included in
In regard to district-level monitoring of student achievement progress, please address the following:

A. Who at the district level is responsible for collecting and reviewing student progress monitoring data?

District Instructional Services Staff- A district-level data review calendar has been created to assure timely and effective review of data. District Instructional Service send out the year long progress monitoring calendar to all teachers and staff starting of the school year. It will also be posted on the district website.

B. What specific school-level progress monitoring data will be collected at the district level to determine that students are progressing toward the district goals stated above? Please specify which grade levels are associated with specific school-level progress monitoring tools discussed in this section.

K-12 students are assessed through a uniform assessment (STAR Reading) three times per year. This data is reviewed at classroom, school, and district level for the purpose of identifying students who are exceeding, meeting, and struggling to meet district goals. These assessments are given in August, January and May.

In addition, elementary and middle schools administer uniform District Standards Based Assessments to determine mastery of individual standards. Data from these assessments are reviewed at classroom level to guide instructions and at school and district levels to monitor fidelity of instruction and determine when additional support is needed. Courses grades, K-12, are also used to indicate when students are in need of intervention.

Data collected from iReady diagnostic assessments help identify students in reading in 6-12 are monitored through Achieve 3000 and Read 180 assessments.

SIPPS mastery test are used to quantify student progress in Phonemic Awareness/Phonics at elementary, and REWARDS mastery assessments measure progress in these areas at secondary.
C. How often will student progress monitoring data be collected and reviewed by the district?

The District Reading Contact meets monthly with Reading Coaches to review progress monitoring data from schools. Personal individual monthly administrative meetings with all school leaders are also held to review data with Curriculum Coordinator. In each monthly meeting, Curriculum Coordinator, school level administration and Reading Coach go over all progress monitoring data reflecting on student and teacher performance. In addition, leadership meetings focus on training administrators to address instructional needs identified through the data collections. A plan for classroom data review is outlined in the MTSS Handbook, which requires teachers to review data and set learning goals based on specific student data. Administrators monitor this process to assure that instruction aligns with set learning goals. District-level instructional staff monitors data after each administration of the universal screener, quarterly after each grading period, monthly for district standards based assessments and SIPPS mastery assessment. Monthly Reading Coach meetings focus on actions required based on the data review.

4. Who at the district level is responsible for ensuring the fidelity of students not progressing towards district goals receiving appropriate interventions?

The primary responsibility lies with the District Reading Contact with support from all District Instructional Services Staff.

5. In regard to district-level monitoring of instructional alignment to grade-level Florida Standards, please address the following:

A. Who at the district-level is responsible for ensuring classroom instruction is aligned to grade-level Florida Standards?

One administrator from each school works with District Instructional Services staff to ensuring classroom instruction is aligned to grade-level Florida Standards.

B. What evidence will be collected to demonstrate that classroom instruction is aligned to grade-level Florida Standards?

District Leadership Team meetings are held monthly to review data and how the data reflects instruction on the standards. The District Leadership Team consists of staff members from Instructional Services, ESE students, and Title I.

The district reading contact provides the staircase for the monthly focus standards at each monthly meeting. This helps ensure that the expectation of rigor is uniform within and across grade levels and schools.

The district has created an ongoing district-wide professional development called the Standards Approach to Learning. This training, which is in its 2nd year, provides assistance to teachers on the instructional demand (rigor) of the standards and gives support for the creation of standards-based lessons. Teachers are provided a stipend for attending and completing follow up work in their classrooms.
Principals meet with each grade level bi-weekly to discuss the level of instruction and student instructional needs evidenced by data from the District Standards Based Assessments (DSBA). These meeting focus on individual teacher data. Reading Coaches are tasked with providing additional support as needed based on this data.

School administrators collect classroom walkthrough data, which becomes a part of the conversation when the district reading contact meets with them. District Instructional Services Staff also conduct classroom walkthroughs and follow up with school administrators and classroom teachers. Schools are provided with tiered support based on their overall data. This may include more reading coach support, assistance with MTSS interventions, and additional instructional resources and training.

C. How often will this evidence be collected at the district level?

Standard based lesson plans and assessment evidence is turned in every two weeks to the Instructional Services Department to ensure instructional alignment. District assessment data is compiled into one document and shared with school-level administration once a month. District-level and school-level administrators will meet once a month to discuss areas of needs and strengths within each grade level/teacher. These meetings are specific to each school.

6. As a separate attachment, please provide the meeting agenda which demonstrates the district contact for the K-12 Comprehensive Research-Based Reading Plan has developed the plan along with: the district contact for Exceptional Student Education (ESE) to discuss the alignment between the District's Special Programs and Procedures (SP&P) requirements, the district contact for Multi-Tiered Systems of Supports (MTSS), the district Management Information Systems (MIS) contact to ensure accurate data reporting, the district ELL contact, a school based principal and a teacher.

See Appendix A.

Research-Based Reading Instruction Allocation

As per Section 1011.62(c), F.S., funds allocated under this subsection must be used to provide a system of comprehensive reading instruction to students enrolled in the K-12 programs, which may include the following:

- An additional hour per day of intensive reading instruction to students in the 300 lowest-performing elementary schools by teachers and reading specialists who are effective in teaching reading;
- Kindergarten through grade 5 reading intervention teachers to provide intensive intervention during the school day and in the required extra hour for students identified as having a reading deficiency;
- Highly qualified reading coaches to specifically support teachers in making instructional decisions based on student data and improve teacher delivery of effective reading instruction, intervention and reading in the content areas based on student need;
• Professional development for school district teachers in evidence-based reading instruction, including strategies to teach reading in content areas with an emphasis on technical and informational text;
• Summer reading camps, using only teachers or other district personnel who are certified or endorsed in reading consistent with Section 1008.25(7)(b)(3), F.S., for all students in kindergarten through grade 2 who demonstrate a reading deficiency as determined by district and state assessments, and students in grades 3 through 5 who score at Level 1 on the statewide, standardized English Language Arts (ELA) assessment;
• Supplemental instructional materials that are grounded in evidence-based reading research; and
• Intensive interventions for students in kindergarten through grade 12 who have been identified as having a reading deficiency or who are reading below grade level as determined by the statewide, standardized English Language Arts assessment.

The following sections will require districts to submit their budget for these expenditures and to answer questions regarding the implementation of the plan.

Professional Development

As per Section 1012.98, F.S. each school district shall develop a professional development system which must include a master plan for inservice activities for all district employees, from all fund sources. The Just Read, Florida! office will review professional development related to reading instruction listed in this plan during monitoring. Please answer the following questions to assist with this process:

1. Who is responsible for ensuring every professional development activity funded through the Research-Based Reading Instruction Allocation is appropriately entered into the Professional Learning Catalog pursuant to 6A-5.071 F.A.C.?

   Lori Sandgren—Curriculum Coordinator

2. What is the total amount budgeted from the Research-Based Reading Allocation for these inservice activities?

   $20,000.00

3. Within the district professional development system, Section 1012.98 (4)(b)(11), F.S., states the district must provide training to reading coaches, classroom teachers, and school administrators in effective methods of identifying characteristics of conditions such as dyslexia and other causes of diminished phonological processing skills; incorporating instructional techniques into the general education setting which are proven to improve reading performance for all students; and using predictive and other data to make instructional decisions based on individual student needs. The training must help teachers integrate phonemic awareness; phonics, word study, and spelling; reading fluency; vocabulary, including academic vocabulary; and text comprehension strategies into an explicit, systematic, and sequential approach to reading instruction, including multisensory intervention strategies. Each district must provide all elementary grades instructional personnel access to training sufficient to meet the requirements of Section 1012.585(3)(f), F.S..

APPENDIX B

Identification of Students with Reading Deficiencies and Intervention Supports

In this section districts will describe how they identify students with substantial reading deficiencies and provide them with required interventions. Districts will create three Identification/Intervention Decision Tree charts to demonstrate how data from screening, diagnostic, progress monitoring, local assessments, statewide assessments or teacher observations will be used to determine specific reading instructional needs and interventions for students. It is important to note that a school may not wait for a student to receive a failing grade at the end of a grading period to identify the student as having a substantial deficiency in reading. If a local assessment is being used for identification, districts should internally analyze their data in order to ensure students are identified at similar rates as on statewide assessments. Districts who use a procured diagnostic, progress monitoring or assessment tool should, at a minimum, use the recommended ranges provided by the instrument developer; however, these districts should also ensure that rates of identification correlate to statewide performance.

- DT1 – Elementary (K-5)
- DT2 – Middle (6-8)
- DT3 – High (9-12)

The charts must contain the following information:

- The grade level(s) of the student;
- Name and performance benchmark on screening, diagnostic, progress monitoring, local assessment, statewide assessment or teacher observations used to identify students with substantial deficiencies in reading and subsequent interventions provided. FSA-ELA scores must be used for appropriate grade levels;
- DT1 must clearly state the conditions the district uses to determine whether a student has a substantial reading deficiency and will subsequently notify the student’s parent as required in Section 1008.25, F.S. This also includes a description of the intensive, explicit, systematic and multisensory reading interventions which will be provided to students in grades K-3;
- DT1 must include information on how the Florida Kindergarten Readiness Screener will be used to identify students for intervention. For each grade level on each chart, districts must include a description of which students will be reported in the Student Information System with an appropriate code for the Reading Intervention Component; and
- An explanation of how instruction will be modified for students who have not responded to a specific reading intervention with the initial intensity (time and group size) provided;
