

Celebrate Literacy Week, Florida!
January 22-26, 2018

Monday, January 22	encourage students to find themselves in a book.
Tuesday, January 23	Let's Hunt for a Good Book: Students, faculty, and staff will wear camo to school. Teachers will choose to read aloud from a book they found or have students hunt for a book they would like to read.
Wednesday, January 24	reading and awareness of its role in the lives of adults.
Thursday, January 25	Paws for Reading: We will celebrate school spirit and reading by having students, faculty, and staff wear spirit gear (for the Kinderkittens, Wildkittens, Panthers, Tigers, Bobcats, or Wildcats) and pause from the daily schedule to read, whether aloud or silently. Baker County Middle School will also host a Read-a-Thon for students to read for pledges in the library on Thursday evening.
Friday, January 26	Read My Shirt Day: Students, faculty, and staff will wear shirts with words (vocabulary, quotes, or literacy/education related messages) on them and encourage others to read their shirts. The high school will have only faculty and staff dress up for this day, but the students will be encouraged to read their shirts.
