SUBJECT: New Webinar Series Starting for CTE Educators

The Division of Career and Adult Education (DCAE) is excited to announce a new series of webinars for all career and technical education (CTE) faculty and administrators. The aim of the webinars is to share best practices and shine a spotlight on CTE excellence in Florida.

The webinars will be hosted monthly, and feature national and state facilitators focusing on resources and techniques that can help districts, colleges and classrooms improve the quality of student career outcomes. Recordings, slide decks and resources from the webinars will be posted to the DCAE website after the webinars.

While the table below notates the primary, intended audience for each webinar, all webinars will provide materials relevant to all levels of CTE. All faculty and administrators are welcome to attend.
