INTRODUCTION

Florida's System of School Improvement and Accountability recognizes that school improvement is best accomplished by those who are most familiar with a school's needs—the members of the school community itself. School Advisory Councils (SACs), composed of members of this community, are responsible for developing and implementing school improvement plans, which show evidence that the school is achieving the State's eight education goals. Fundamental to the system's approach is the idea that school improvement is not a matter of meeting basic requirements but of continuing to assess and address the needs of a changing school.

This Planning Guide: Achieving Safe, Equitable, Healthy, and Drug-Free Schools is designed to help schools and districts achieve healthy and drug-free schools, and safe school environments, protect civil rights, and assure equitable treatment for all students. These three target areas, like all the goals, are interrelated.

Expert practitioners in school health, safety, and civil rights believe that

- a healthy and drug-free school promotes student access to services and instruction that ensure the opportunity for total well-being, including success in school. A healthy, drug-free school has a comprehensive school health program and an alcohol, tobacco, and other drug use prevention program that encourage healthy lifestyles, strengthen protective factors, and reduce risk behaviors and their consequences.
- safe and drug-free schools are free of physical or psychological harm and provide disciplined environments where students and staff can effectively learn, work, teach, and grow. Safe and drug-free schools can best be created and maintained through the involvement of all stakeholders within the community.
- the ideal school will reflect equity in education when students' school achievement and participation are not identifiable by the subpopulation (race, gender, etc.) to which they belong.

Only then can all students achieve their full potential.

The Planning Guide revises the original guide, Achieving Goal Five: Assessment and Planning Guide for Goal Five of Blueprint 2000, to more closely align with the Florida Department of Education's Strategic Plan objectives. The assessment tools were developed according to the principal working assumptions, standards, and outcomes, as set out in Florida's System of School Improvement and Accountability. This guide has been reorganized into sections based on steps in the planning process and includes new examples and worksheets, and updated checklists. Although the guide offers suggestions, each School Advisory Council (SAC) is encouraged to use it in the way that works best for them to identify their school's needs and devise approaches to address those needs.

ABOUT THIS GUIDE

The Planning Guide: Achieving Safe, Equitable, Healthy, and Drug-Free Schools is designed to help schools assess their status in achieving safe, healthy, and equitable schools and create a plan for improvement. A needs assessment, conducted prior to developing your school improvement plan, will help you to decide which areas need improvement. Although each of the three major areas may require special focus, they are closely related to one another. For example, safety problems may be caused or aggravated by policies that prevent equitable access to programs or by the presence of drugs. You are encouraged to look for links among these three areas in putting together your recommendations for improvement. Remember that this guide helps you do a comprehensive assessment, which doesn't have to be done at one time or by one group. You are encouraged to be creative and flexible in your use of this document.

The Planning Guide takes you through the following steps, using the example of a hypothetical high school as its SAC identifies and addresses a problem. Each step includes a worksheet.

Step 1: Examining School Data

What are our school's strengths and weaknesses in the areas of health, safety, and civil rights?

This section helps your SAC determine what to improve. To assess their current situation, SACs will rely on the data collected by the school and district, as well as on their perceptions and experiences. The Assessment Checklists on pages 22 - 56 can also provide useful direction and information.

Step 2: Narrowing Your Focus

What are our school's major problems in the areas of health, safety, and civil rights?

Assessment Checklists

The major assessment tool provided in this guide consists of checklists that will help you organize your needs assessment. The checklists can be used in a variety of ways: to begin discussion, to help clarify issues and focus on a particular area, and to assist in assigning priorities to the desired improvements. The checklists are divided into three categories: safe schools; equitable schools; and healthy, drug-free schools. Each item on the checklists is keyed to sources of data available in your school or district, including the relevant accountability indicators, where appropriate. It is not necessary to fill out every part of every checklist; your SAC can use the checklists and modify them in whatever way works best for you. For example, you may decide to assign different parts of checklists to different groups and concentrate on different categories on the checklists each school year. The checklists can be duplicated as needed.

Step 3: Setting Goals

What goals do we want to set for our school in the areas of health, safety, and civil rights?

An important part of developing and enacting your plan for school improvement is determining what you want your school to look like. In this step, you set your goals, which provide a direction for your plan of action.

Step 4: Developing an Action Plan

How do we reach our school's goals in the areas of health, safety, and civil rights?

Once you have determined where you are and where you want to be, the next step is deciding how to get there. In this step, you identify the causes of the problems; write measurable objectives for reaching your goals; devise strategies, activities, and a timeline for meeting those objectives; and identify the necessary resources and personnel.

Step 5: Developing an Evaluation Plan

How do we measure progress toward our school's goals in the areas of health, safety, and civil rights?

It is important to have measurable indicators of your progress, including the indicators that initially helped you identify the problem. Again, your experience, observations, and perceptions will also provide information about your plan's progress.

Sample Assessments and Action Plans

Examples of assessments and action plans for healthy, drug-free, equitable, and safe schools are provided.

In your deliberations, you may choose to go back and forth between steps as you develop your plans. You may find that priority areas you initially identified need revision as you learn more about where you are now. Your SAC should feel free to follow the process that works best for the group.

STEP 1: EXAMINING SCHOOL DATA

What are our school's strengths and weaknesses in the areas of health, safety, and civil rights?

There are numerous ways for the SAC to begin its discussion of the school's status in achieving safe, equitable, healthy, and drug-free schools. Consider the steps outlined below:

First, review the School Advisory Council Report (see Florida Department of Education: School Advisory Council Report, page 8, and Sample 1: School Environmental Safety: Reported Incidents, page 9.)

Second, examine additional data that have been collected by the school, the district, and other groups who may be working on the different goals of the Florida System of School Improvement and Accountability (see Sample 2: School Environmental Safety: Incident Details, page 10, Sample 5: Indicator 4.1: School Learning Environment Survey of Students, page 73, and Appendix C, "Accountability Indicators", pages 105-106).

Third, review the summaries of the laws and regulations pertaining to Goal Five to ensure that your school is in compliance. (See Planning Guide: Supplemental Resources.)

Fourth, preview the assessment checklists (see Step 2, pages 19-54) for ideas about areas to discuss and sources of relevant data.

Finally, discuss the perceptions, observations, and experiences of the members of the SAC.

To help with this step, fill out the Worksheet for Step 1: Examining School Data on page 11, following the above steps.

STEP 2: INARROWING YOUR FOCUS

What are our school's major problems in the areas of health, safety, and civil rights?

After reviewing the relevant laws and the data that have been compiled by the school, the SAC will need to narrow its focus to specific problem and success areas. To do this, additional information may need to be collected. The checklists included in this section have been designed to assist with gathering this type of information. They contain factors that practitioners identified as contributing to safe schools, equitable schools, and healthy, drug-free schools. Completing some or all of the sections of these checklists will assist SACs in identifying specific problems to improve and successes to enhance.

To narrow your focus:

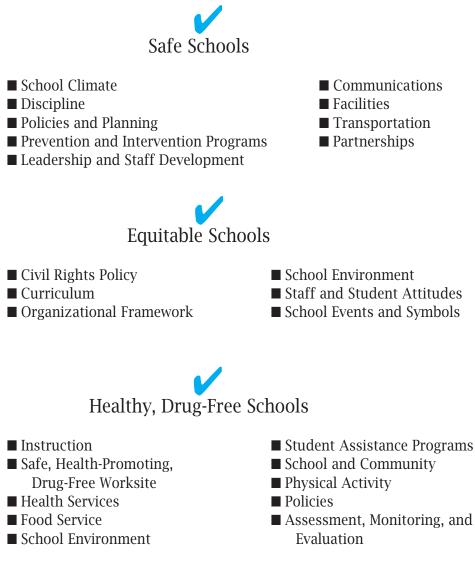

- Identify those areas that members of the SAC agree are working well and those needing improvement.
- Collect and review data that are relevant to the areas needing improvement.
- Identify specific problems and look for the causes of these problems.
- Decide which problems should receive priority.
- Decide which successes should be enhanced, built on, or replicated.

To help with this step, fill out the Worksheet for Step 2: Narrowing Your Focus, on page 57.

THE ASSESSMENT CHECKLISTS

The following three checklists reflect what practitioners believe are contributing factors to safe schools, equitable schools, and healthy, drug-free schools. They are not required components of a school improvement plan. Each checklist is divided into several components. The checklists are extensive, giving you a wide range of possibilities to consider. Choose those sections that will be the most helpful to you.

Checklist Components

USING THE ASSESSMENT CHECKLISTS

The Assessment Checklists beginning on the following page provide a way to initiate discussion of the various areas that contribute to achieving safe, equitable, and healthy schools. The checklists can be used most effectively as ongoing worksheets, to be completed and referred to throughout the assessment process. They are not designed to be completed at one sitting, nor are they designed as perception surveys to be used with the SAC, staff, teachers, or parents. They are designed, however, to help you:

- organize your approach to assessing what your school needs to improve in these areas
- identify sources of data that you can review and use in determining what to improve
- identify the areas in most need of improvement and determine priorities
- keep track of the areas you have examined

The Assessment Checklists are organized in the following manner:

| Policy | Sample Sourcesof Information | Implementor Improve | Priority | Progress |
|--------|----------------------------------|-------------------------|----------|----------|
| 1      | 2                                | 3                       | 4        | 5        |

Column 1

The items in this column were contributed by expert practitioners in the areas of safety, civil rights, and health. You may choose not to address all of the items at one time. The more items you can address, however, the more complete your assessment will be.

Column 2

This column identifies the data that may be used in determining whether your school needs to implement or improve the item and indicates where the data can be found. A reference to an accountability indicator means that these data are among those required by the State Board of Education as you assess your school's progress.

Column 3

Place a check mark in this column if you believe that, based on the data, the item is one your school should either implement or improve.

Column 4

In this column, you can either indicate that the item is a priority, or assign it a numerical priority. You may discover that you have listed more priorities than you can address, but this designation will allow you to review those priorities and refine your list.

Column 5

In this column, indicate the progress that you have made toward completion of this item.

Note: For further review of specific areas such as school climate or equity, see the additional checklists and surveys in the Planning Guide: Supplemental Resources, available in your district office.

Safe, Disciplined Schools Checklist

Place a check mark in column three, next to those items you believe your school needs either to implement or improve. The second column provides possible sources of information (data) about this area. In the fourth column, indicate the priority you think this item should receive. In the fifth column, indicate the progress you have made on this item. See Appendix C for Accountability Indicators. Checklists may be duplicated as needed.

step 3: setting goals

What goals do we want to set for our school in the areas of health, safety, and civil rights?

Part of the process of identifying the problems—determining what you want to improve—is comparing what is happening in your school now with what you want to happen.

- Discuss where you want your school to be and what your school will look like when you have accomplished your improvements (your vision).
- Set your goal(s). Your goals address the major problems that you have identified and are specific statements of what you want to achieve.

The SAC of Oceanside High School sets the following:

Vision

Oceanside High School will be free of substance use, violence, and harassment.

Five-year goal

Oceanside High School will significantly reduce incidents of substance use, violence, and harassment.

STEP 4: DEVELOPING AN ACTION PLAN

How do we reach our school's goals in the areas of health, safety, and civil rights?

You know where you are; you know where you want to be. What steps can you take to reach your goals?

Determine what is causing or contributing to the problem(s) so that you can select objectives, strategies, and activities that will help you meet your objectives. To learn what is causing or contributing to problems, the SAC will want to review data previously collected. One good source may be a school learning environment survey (Indicator 4.1). For an example of findings from this type of survey, see Sample 5 on page 73.

The SAC may also decide that further assessment of causes and contributing factors is necessary. If so, additional surveys and checklists are available in the Planning Guide: Supplemental Resources. Other community agencies, such as those for public health and law enforcement, may be able to provide the SAC additional data or information on identified problem areas.

Write measurable objectives that directly address causes or contributing factors. Describe how you will reach your goal and how you will know when you have reached it.

A well-stated objective is attainable and realistic. It clearly and concisely describes:

- what will be accomplished
- how the accomplishment will be measured
- when it will be accomplished

Oceanside High School Objectives

The School Advisory Council of Oceanside High School writes three measurable objectives for reaching their five-year goal of significantly reduced incidents of substance use, violence, and harassment.

Objective One: Reduce incidents of substance use by 10% in the next school year.

Objective Two: Reduce incidents of fighting by 10% in the next school year.

Objective Three:

Reduce incidents of sexual harassment and hate-related incidents by 10% in the next school year.

Develop strategies and activities to achieve your objectives, and specify a timeline and people responsible for completing these. See the sample action plan on page 74.

To help with Step 4, fill out the Worksheet for Step 4: Developing an Action Plan on page 75, following the above steps.

Oceanside High School Learning Environment Survey of Students

- 1. 73% responding agreed or strongly agreed that "I know of some teachers at my school who single out certain students for punishment more than others."
- 2. 23% responding agreed or strongly agreed that "When students break rules they are treated the same, no matter who they are."
- 3. 33% responding agreed or strongly agreed that "I think that students of all racial groups at my school get along with each other and work out problems."
- 4. 61% responding agreed or strongly agreed that "I feel safe at my school."
- 5. 62% responding agreed or strongly agreed that "Violent incidents among students often happen because students don't know how to peacefully resolve conflicts."
- 6. 29% responding agreed or strongly agreed that "Students treat each other respectfully."
- 7. 76% responding agreed or strongly agreed that "Students are often subjected to verbal or physical abuse by other students."
- 8. 34% of students responding reported witnessing, during this school year, zero to two fights at the school or on the school bus and 23% reported witnessing 3 or more.
- 9. When given a list of possible problems and asked to report how serious they were at the school, students were most likely to report violent incidents among students (66%), theft (61%), racial conflict (57%), vandalism (53%) and selling drugs (44%) as moderate to major problems at school. Problems most likely reported as no problem or minor problems at the school included gangs (85%) and students carrying firearms (81%) or weapons (73%).

Oceanside High School Action Plan

The SAC of Oceanside High School chooses to conduct additional surveys of parents, school personnel, and students, using materials from the Planning Guide: Supplemental Resources. They are again assessing "where they are," but at a deeper level. They are now identifying the causes of the problems they have chosen to target. Part of the strategy may be to further investigate causes and solutions. The SAC of Oceanside High School develops the following action plan based on additional assessments of causes:

STEP 5: DEVELOPING AN EVALUATION PLAN

How do we measure progress toward our school's goals in the areas of health, safety, and civil rights?

Develop criteria and a process for evaluating whether your objectives have been met, goals are being achieved, and improvements have been made. The evaluation should answer these basic questions:

- 1. Did you implement the strategies proposed?
- 2. Did you implement the strategies as planned?
- 3. Were these appropriate strategies for the identified problem areas?
- 4. Did you target the right problem areas to reach your objectives?
- 5. What kind of impact did you have on your objective?

To track your school's progress in addressing problems, use the sources of information or data (e.g., surveys, interviews, incident reports) that highlighted them. To help tracking, fill out the Worksheet for Step 5: Developing an Evaluation Plan on page 85, following the above steps.

Oceanside High School Measures of Progress

The School Advisory Council of Oceanside High School chooses the following indicators to evaluate their progress:

Objective 1: Total incidents of substance use will decrease by 10% as evidenced in the School Environmental Safety Incident Report (SESIR).

Objective 2: Total incidents of fighting will decrease by 10% as evidenced in the School Environmental Safety Incident Report (SESIR).

Objective 3: Total incidents of sexual harassment and hate crime-related events will decrease by 10% as evidenced in the School Environmental Safety Incident Report (SESIR).

Note: Additional sample assessments and action plans (Samples 8-11) for healthy, drug-free schools, equitable schools, or safe schools can be found on pages 93-98.

Safe, Disciplined Schools Assessment and Action Plan

Identified Problem

The large volume of discipline referrals from classroom teachers.

Data Sources

Number and types of discipline referrals to school administrators from teachers during class periods as entered into the school's discipline database; type by purpose of misbehavior as entered into the school's discipline database; self-reports of number of referrals by teachers from the school climate survey; the reports of classroom disruption by students and teachers from the school climate survey.

Examples of Data

School Environmental Safety Incident Reporting System

Overview of the System

A School Environmental Safety Incident Reporting System (SESIR) was put into place in the 1995-96 school year as part of the accountability system for the state's education goals. It serves as the indicator (Indicator 5.1) for the goal of achieving a safe school environment. The system collects uniform data in every school in Florida on serious incidents of school crime and violence that occur on the school campus, on school transportation, and at school-sponsored events. Although the system was initiated to meet statewide reporting needs, it has been designed to give districts as much flexibility as possible to develop systems that meet local reporting needs.

Offenses to be tracked and reported to the Florida Department of Education through this system are those that are against the law or represent serious breaches of the student code of conduct, including those considered severe enough to require the involvement of a school resource or security officer, or to be reported to local law enforcement. Examples include possession of a firearm or drugs on campus or vandalism to school property, such as graffiti.

The SESIR System incorporates tracking of elements related to incidents such as location, number of students involved, and whether a weapon was involved. This allows schools to analyze patterns in incidents over time and connect student information to these incidents.

Technical assistance is available to districts, including a technical assistance document called the School Environmental Safety Incident Reporting System Handbook.

The SESIR System was designed to meet the following long-term goals:

- Establish a reliable system for reporting on school safety
- Establish a link between student and incident data
- Provide quality data for needs assessment and program evaluation
- Provide quality data for policy development and resource allocation

SESIR System Data Elements

In order to track both aspects of an incident—the offense involved and the students committing offenses — the system uses two reporting formats. One format has been developed for reporting the elements of an incident, such as the type of offense, its location, and whether it was reported to law enforcement. This format is called the School Environmental Safety Incident Reporting Format.

The other aspect of the incident—the students committing offenses — is tracked through modifications to the existing reporting format for student discipline/referral actions. This format is called the Student Discipline/Referral Action Reporting Format. Students disciplined for an incident with any of the six state-defined disciplinary actions would have a report filed that included the incident's unique "incident identifier," to tie all of the students back to the one incident and the action taken.

The SESIR System requires schools to report incidents of any of 21 major types of serious safety violations that occur:

- during the school year on school grounds, 365 days of the year and 24 hours a day, even if a student is not involved or the offender is unknown;
- on all school transportation; and
- at off-campus school-sponsored events when a student is involved.

If, during a single incident, several actions, occur, like threats and battery, schools are to report the most serious action, defined by a specific rank-ordered list.

The SESIR system contains the following elements:

- 1. Uniform definitions of incidents across schools and districts
- 2. Uniform information on incidents, including all of the following:
  - incident date
  - school where incident occurred
  - incident location: school grounds, off-campus school-sponsored activity, or school transportation
  - whether the incident occurred during or outside school hours and at a school-sponsored or nonschool-sponsored activity
  - whether the offender or offenders were students, nonstudents, both, or unknown
  - type of incident:

| alcohol                        | homicide            | sex offenses         |
|--------------------------------|---------------------|----------------------|
| arson                          | kidnapping          | threat/intimidation  |
| battery                        | larceny/theft       | tobacco              |
| breaking and entering/burglary | motor vehicle theft | trespassing          |
| disorderly conduct             | robbery             | vandalism            |
| drugs, except alcohol          | sexual battery      | weapon possession    |
| fighting                       | sexual harassment   | other major offenses |

- whether the incident was reported to law enforcement
- whether the incident was gang-related
- whether the incident involved some type of weapon
- type of weapon: firearm, firearm component or attachment, explosive, incendiary or poison gas, knife, other weapon, unknown weapon
- whether the incident was alcohol-related
- whether the incident was drug-related
- whether the incident was hate crime-related
- 3. Consequences for individuals involved in incident, including any of the following:
  - corporal punishment
  - in-school suspension
  - out-of-school suspension
  - alternative placement (in lieu of expulsion)
  - expulsion
  - court or juvenile referral

ACCOUNTABILITY INDICATORS

An essential part of Florida's System of School Improvement and Accountability is accountability to parents and the community for school and student performance. Sixteen indicators are used to report information on how well each school is doing on Goals 1-8. The indicators are designed to provide data for individual school improvement, not for comparisons between schools. Schools will report data on each of the indicators in the School Public Accountability Report. This is a unique report prepared annually by each school. The data will be reported at the district and state level when available.

The School Advisory Council Report is a more detailed report describing subpopulations, and where appropriate, gender and race/ethnic groupings. This report is used by the school advisory council for school improvement planning. This report is not intended for direct distribution to parents, but they are informed that a copy is available to the public.

Goal 1: Readiness to Start School

Indicator 1.1 The number and percentage of students meeting the expectations of the state for school readiness as determined by a formal observation of each kindergarten student using an instrument that meets guidelines developed by the Department of Education.

Goal 2: Graduation Rate and Readiness for Postsecondary Education and Employment

- Indicator 2.1 The number and percentage of students who graduate from high school as defined in Section 232.2468, Florida Statutes.
- Indicator 2.2 The number and percentage of students 16 years or older who were reported as dropouts at the end of each school year.
- Indicator 2.3 The number and percentage of students who meet the state levels in reading, writing, and mathematics for placement into college-level courses
- Indicator 2.4 The number and percentage of graduates who are employed, enrolled in postsecondary programs, or enlisted in the military using the most recently available data.

Goal 3: Student Performance

Indicator 3.1 Student performance results on state-designated external student assessments at various grade levels, including Florida Writes!, the High School Competency Test (HSCT), and locally administered norm-referenced tests at grades four and eight.

Goal 4: Learning Environment

- Indicator 4.1 Results of an annual locally administered school learning environment survey.
- Indicator 4.2 The number and percentage of teachers and staff who are new to the school at the beginning of each school year.
- Indicator 4.3 The number and percentage of students absent 11 to 20 days and 21 or more days each year.
- Indicator 4.4 The average number of days teachers and administrators were not in attendance at the school for reasons classified as personal leave, sick leave, and temporary duty elsewhere.

Goal 5: School Safety and Environment

Indicator 5.1 The number of incidents of violence, weapons violations, vandalism, substance abuse, and harassment on the bus, on campus, and at school-sponsored activities.

Goal 6: Teachers and Staff

Indicator 6.1 The number and percentage of classes taught by out-of-field teachers.

- Indicator 6.2 The number and percentage of teachers, administrators, and staff who receive satisfactory annual evaluations based on the district assessment system.
- Indicator 6.3 The number and percentage of teachers in the schools who have earned degrees beyond the bachelor's level.
