Highlights

2,675 Students Applied

Comments from Internship Providers...
Provided students with a different perspective and emphasized the importance of essential work during a pandemic.

The CTE staff and teacher intern supervisors were very helpful, a pleasure to work with, and possessed excellent customer service skills.

The internship program helped students that in health care anything can happen and be prepared.

Students learn to communicate effectively in a business and customer service on the job.

Comments from Interns...
This SYIP program allowed me to experience and learn things which took my medical school residents more learning. At the tender age of 17, I was able to learn how amazing the autonomy of being (completely/partially) self-sufficient felt like. I have grown and instilled in more ways than one due to this internship.

Provides student with the opportunity to experience what work really is, helping them decide if this is actually the career that they want pursue.

The strongest part of the internship program was the loan that was assigned to. In my opinion there were no weaknesses in the program, was perfect but too short.

EFFECTIVE TIPS FOR WORKING REMOTELY

You will need to adhere to your employer’s policies while conducting work from a remote location.

1. KNOW YOUR TOOLS
Avoid frustration & maintain productivity by testing technology & accessing files remotely before you need it.

2. SET YOUR SPACE
Find a comfortable, quiet spot where you can focus & maintain an ergonomically-sound work environment.

3. STRUCTURE YOUR DAY
As appropriate, keep your same work hours on a daily basis. It’s important to maintain boundaries around hours. Plan for meal breaks just like you would in the office.

4. COMMUNICATE!
You won’t “see” everyone in the hallways, but it’s very important to stay connected with your Supervisor/Mentor. Use all of your tools to stay connected – Skype, MS Teams, phone calls & emails are just a few.
You will need to adhere to your employer’s policies while conducting work from a remote location.

5. BE PROACTIVE WITH YOUR MANAGER
Keep your supervisor up to speed on your accomplishments, struggles & areas in which you need assistance. Plan to provide regular & frequent status reports as appropriate.

6. AVOID DISTRACTIONS
Plan your work space & schedule to minimize distractions. Limit interactions with family members, friends, & pets to break periods or after your work day ends.

7. KEEP HEALTHY
Make sure you periodically stretch, walk around, & frequently look away from your screen. Use your calendar if you need a reminder!

8. ADHERE TO POLICIES
While you are working remotely, you are still “at work” so be sure to follow your employer’s policies including downloading apps & visiting websites on work computers and during work time.
BEST PRACTICES FOR ONLINE INTERVIEWS

SIGN UP FOR A WEB CONFERENCE
These services are currently being offered for free:
- Zoom
- Cisco Webex Meetings
- UberConference
- GlobalMeet Collaboration

FIND A QUIET ROOM OR SPACE
You want to avoid interruptions and distractions during your interview.

DO A TEST RUN BEFORE THE INTERVIEW
A test run ensures you have time to work out the kinks and avoid issues at the time of the interview.

PREPARE QUESTIONS
You should have a script of questions to ask each candidate before you begin interviewing.

DRESS PROFESSIONALLY
You might not be meeting in person, but first impressions are still key.

MAINTAIN EYE CONTACT
The best way to maintain eye contact during an online interview is to look directly at the camera and not the screen.
INTERNSHIP PROVIDER TIPS FOR CONDUCTING AN ONLINE INTERVIEW

Test your equipment

• Before each video call, test your camera, microphone and sound to prevent any potential technical problems that could occur during the interview. Establish a location with good lighting and minimized distractions.

Prepare your questions

• Structure your call to ensure that you achieve your objectives.
• Is there a specific skill set or background you’re looking for?
• Do you want to provide questions ahead of time to allow job seekers the opportunity to craft well-thought-out answers?
• Do you want to test their agile thinking abilities with on-the-spot questions?

Make a good impression

• Make the online interview process as easy as possible for interns.
• Being on time, dressing professional, maintaining eye contact and giving someone your full attention also applies to employers.
• Prepare for possible questions surrounding COVID-19 during online interviews. Health and safety are expected to be top priorities internship providers should be ready to vocalize their organization’s response to this health crisis and what protections interns can expect if hired.

Work-Based Learning

Brian Robinson
Policy Associate, Advance CTE

What is Work-Based Learning?

Work-based learning is an educational strategy that offers students an opportunity to reinforce and deepen their classroom learning, explore future career fields, and demonstrate their skills in an authentic setting.
Work-Based Learning Works

- Linked to better odds of full-time employment- 2014 Gallup survey found 71% of college graduates who found jobs participated in work-based learning.
- Work-based learning participants can earn more money- A 2012 study of registered apprenticeships found participants earned $6,000/year more, on average, than if they hadn’t participated in the program.
Work-Based Learning is an Equity Issue

A 2018 Brookings Institute report found that economically disadvantaged learners who participate in relationship-based working-based learning experiences such as internships or apprenticeships in high school are more likely to obtain better quality jobs as measured by wages, benefits, hours and job satisfaction.

How Has COVID-19 Impacted WBL?

- Closed schools, businesses and technical centers.
- Cancelled internships and apprenticeships.
How Have Stakeholders Responded?

- Texas: Lone Star College is working with the state to identify programs critical to the workforce pipeline and complete labor market studies to determine which programs are most needed.

- New Orleans, LA: YouthForce NOLA surveyed employer partners on their most immediate needs that students could meet and turned their traditional 90-hour internship program to 40-hour virtual consultancies.

- California: EXP, a California-based intermediary has taken advantage of widespread teleworking by recruiting out-of-state companies to place its students.
What are the Equity Implications?

- Technological Divide
  - Some students have regular access to technological devices and high-speed internet connections. Many do not.

-  Ability Divide
  - Students with disabilities need support that’s difficult to deliver remotely.
  - Technology is not always adaptable to student needs.

- Economic Divide
  - Economically disadvantaged households are most likely to be negatively impacted by COVID-19.

- Social and Emotional Divide
  - Not all students have the home supports and environment conducive to productive remote/virtual working.
Examples of Bridging the Divides

- Iowa’s Clearinghouse for Work-Based Learning connects classrooms with employers across the state.
- CareerWise Colorado places learners in three year apprenticeships starting in high school. Every learner has a “customer success manager” who supports them through the experience.
- West Virginia’s Simulated Workplace allows CTE learners to transform their classrooms into business enterprises.
Example of Bridging the Divides

• Boston’s Private Industry Council creates equity to opportunity, exposing Boston high school learners to various private and public sectors and provides summer internship experiences.
• The Denver Opportunity Youth Investment Initiative (DOYII) connects Opportunity Youth with education, job training, and employment opportunities at local businesses. DOYII also connects these learners to wraparound services to ensure their success.
Examples of Bridging the Divides

MIAMI: Summer Youth Employment Program

Provides learners an opportunity to gain real-world hands-on experience along a specific career path with intentional focus on underrepresented learner populations.
