SECTION I: INTRODUCTION AND SETTING THE STATE CONTEXT

Introduction

The technical assistance paper provides guidance to administrators and persons with test administration responsibilities in adult education programs. These policies apply to the approved assessments that programs may use to report educational gains in compliance with the National Reporting System (NRS) requirements. The NRS is the accountability system for the federally-funded adult education program, mandated by the Workforce Investment Act (WIA). NRS identifies twelve Educational Functioning Levels (EFLs) in its accountability measures. Four EFLs are in Adult Basic Education (ABE), two in Adult Secondary Education (ASE), and six in English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL). The descriptors of each EFL are entry-level descriptors and are illustrative of what a typical student functioning at that level should be able to do.

The Florida assessment policy guidelines include the selection and use of appropriate student assessment and procedures for the following:

- Accurate student placement into appropriate program and instructional level
- Diagnostic information to guide instruction
- Pre- and posttesting to monitor progress toward goals
- Verification of level and program completion

These policy guidelines also include staff training and test security requirements for all staff who administer the standardized assessments and use the results from these assessments.

Overview of State Policy

An overview of state and federal policies is as follows:

- All newly enrolled students must be pretested within the first 12 hours of instruction.
- Programs reporting into the NRS require assessments that are approved by the United States Department of Education (USDOE) and Florida Department of Education (FDOE).
- Programs must comply with test publishers’ recommended timeframes for posttesting (see Table 1 for FDOE and USDOE requirements).
- In certain limited cases, instructors and test administrators, based on their professional judgment, may request an exception to the test publishers’ recommended time-frames for posttesting an adult learner, but the administrator or designee must approve and provide documentation.
- Completion of the ASE High functioning level is demonstrated by completing the required course work to earn the adult high school diploma or passing the GED® tests. These students are not required to posttest.
- Students who are tested in multiple skill areas must be placed and tracked in the area that places students in the lowest EFL, as determined by scale scores on the standardized assessment (exception is reading and listening test for ESOL programs).
• Students enrolled in the Adult ESOL course are required to test in reading and listening skill areas. Use the reading score to establish and report to FDOE. Use the lower score of reading or listening to assign the student to a classroom that provides instruction at the level of the lower score. Submit both reading and listening test information to the FDOE in accordance with FDOE instructions for reporting.
• When a student’s scale score falls on the top score for the EFL, this indicates the student has completed the EFL.

Need for the Assessment Policy

Standardized assessment of student progress is essential to ensure that all adult learners become proficient in literacy and language skills. To ensure accuracy and consistency, programs must use standardized assessments that are valid and reliable and are approved for use for the NRS. The USDOE approves the assessments initially, and the FDOE submits the assessment for approval by the State Board of Education. Once approved, the new assessment is added to Rule 6A-6.014, F.A.C. Programs may not use assessments until both approvals have taken place.

Reliability and Validity

Assessments must be reliable and valid. Each of the standardized assessments identified in this paper have been reviewed by test publishers and the United States Department of Education for reliability and validity. Reliability and validity are defined below.

• Reliability - An assessment is reliable if it consistently measures the knowledge, skills and abilities for all intended examinees (ages, ethnicities, gender, location, etc.). Reliability is defined as “test accuracy.” If the test is administered to a large number of students, over time it will give the same results consistently. If an assessment produces consistent results in a rural area but not an urban area, the assessment may not be reliable for use in all areas.

• Validity - An assessment is valid if it accurately measures the skills and abilities for which it was developed. For example, to measure a person’s understanding of calculating area, the assessment must provide questions that specifically require the test taker to calculate area. To establish the content validity with respect to the requirements of the NRS, there must be evidence that the items/tasks of the instrument measure the skills associated with the EFL.

Purpose and Uses for Assessment Policy

The purpose of educational assessment is to determine the educational functioning for a learner, either when first enrolling in the program or after participating in the program for a specified period of instruction. This determination also establishes the learner’s lowest functioning level at the time of the initial assessment, while posttests measure educational gain from scale scores and possibly completion of the program.

Assessment Policy for Instruction

Programs can only use assessments approved by the USDOE and FDOE. Administering these assessments is necessary for several reasons:
• Measures the initial EFLs of students to place them in alignment with NRS levels.
• Measures the educational achievement of students as they progress through NRS levels.
• Improves student retention by documenting improvement.
• Accurately measures the initial functioning level and progress of students by using reliable and valid assessment measurements.
• Diagnoses the educational strengths and weaknesses of students accurately.
• Assists students in setting goals.

Assessment Policy for Accountability
Assessments provide an opportunity to statistically measure the performance of people and programs. The FDOE uses the results obtained from assessments to:
• Negotiate statewide performance levels with the USDOE.
• Evaluate programs, measure performance, and set future performance standards for programs and the state.
• Provide comparability across programs.
• Make decisions on professional development, technical assistance, and monitoring.
• Implement program improvement strategies.

Data findings
The state collects and analyzes data on adult general education programs. Information is located at http://fldoehub.org/cctcmis/pages/nrs.aspx.

Non-NRS Assessments
In addition to the required standardized pre- and post-assessment instruments, programs should continue to use a variety of informal instruments and procedures to collect valid, ongoing information regarding students’ instructional needs and progress. Some examples include:
• Computerized assessments
• End-of-unit tests from textbooks
• Checklists
• Individual projects or products
• Small group projects
• Educator-made assessments
• Project/products with clearly defined criteria or performance standards
• Dated anecdotal records of teaching observations
• Performance samples, including writing samples, journals, audiotapes of student readings or interviews, and worksheets
• Role-playing
• Student interviews and self-evaluations
SECTION II: GENERAL ASSESSMENT REQUIREMENTS

Assessing Students for NRS Reporting

All students enrolled in the adult education ABE and ESOL programs will be pre- and posttested with state designated assessments. All students who will be included in the NRS data submission must be pretested. Exceptions may be made for students who are unable to understand or respond to the test due to low literacy, lack of English proficiency, or due to disability. Programs must provide some alternative assessment for such students, as explained in Appendix D. The FDOE requires that programs follow publisher guidelines on the recommended amount of time to allow between pretest and posttest. Posttests should not be administered to students until a significant instructional intervention has taken place. It is important to provide students with the time they need to learn the material so that they can make a level gain of one EFL or more when posttested.

Pretest Guidelines
Assessments must meet the following standards:

- All (100%) students enrolled in Adult Basic Education (ABE), Adult High School (AHS), GED® Preparation, and English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) programs, must be pretested within the first twelve (12) hours of instruction.
- Initial EFL must be determined by pretesting on an approved standardized test.
- If the student is functioning at different EFLs in different skills areas, the lowest EFL is used as the basis for initial placement into an EFL.

Note: Students enrolling in a Career and Technical education program must be tested within six weeks and, if remediation is needed, they should be enrolled in the adult education course, Applied Academics for Adult Education (AAAE), formerly Vocational Preparatory Instruction (VPI).

Establishing Entry Educational Functioning Level Based on Assessment Scores
If programs provide instruction in more than one skill area, the USDOE and FDOE require that the students be tested in the skill area(s) most relevant to the students’ needs and to the program’s curriculum. For example, students enrolled in ABE must be tested with a test designed for ABE and in one or more of the skill areas relevant to ABE students, such as mathematics, reading, and language. The FDOE requires that students enrolled in adult ESOL should test with an assessment designed for adult ESOL and in two skill areas, reading and listening (only reading is used to determine EFLs and Literacy Completion Points (LCPs)). It is the decision of the local program to test in speaking and writing. The FDOE does not require these two tests.
Initial Placement and Educational Functioning Level

The USDOE and FDOE require that for each program year programs establish a baseline, initial EFL for placing students in an NRS level. If multiple skill areas are assessed and the student has different abilities in different areas, the program should place the student according to the lowest functioning level with the exception described below in the listening assessment. For example, if a student scores at the beginning level in reading and the low intermediate level in mathematics, then the student would be placed in the beginning level. The lowest functioning level is used to determine educational gain in subsequent assessments.

After June 30, 2012, programs must discontinue use of the CASAS Life and Work Listening assessment for NRS reporting purposes. The state assessment policy continues to require programs to administer both listening and reading tests to all adult education students enrolled in the ESOL program (#9900040) and ELCATE course (#9900050). Programs will continue to report reading and listening scores to the state. However, only the reading assessment results will determine the initial EFL and will be used for NRS reporting. To determine learning gains and/or completion, compare the reading posttest scale score to the reading pretest scale score.

Programs cannot earn LCPs based on listening scores reported to the state. Results of the listening test should be used locally to help determine the instructional needs of the students.

As of July 2012, the Employability Competency Skills (ECS) test is no longer allowed for use of reporting test scores and EFLs of ELCATE students. Programs shall use the CASAS Life and Work 80 series to test ELCATE students. ELCATE students must be tested in reading and listening, and the scores of both skill areas are to be reported to the State. The reading score is used for reporting purposes. Assign students to a class in which instruction is at the level of the lower of the two scores of reading or listening.

Life and Work 980 Listening Test Series Forms 981L, 982L, 983L, 984L, 985L and 986L approved by USDOE for NRS reporting purposes (paper and computer-based delivery formats) until June 30, 2015, but cannot be used until the Rule 6A-6.014 has been revised and approved by the State Board of Education. This paper will be updated once the Rule has been approved.

Posttest Guidelines

The state goal for posttesting is to posttest a minimum of 70 percent of all eligible students according to the timeframe(s) specified in this assessment paper.

Educational gain is determined by comparing the student’s initial pretest with the posttest when reassessed. Guidelines for timeframes for administering posttests are described in Table 1. It is important to note that if a student is not posttested, a level of completion cannot be determined. Programs should not be pretesting and posttesting with two different assessments. For example, you cannot pretest with the TABE and posttest with the CASAS.
TABLE 1: State-Approved Assessments and Posttest Policies

This table lists the tests that have been approved for NRS reporting, students to be assessed according to course(s) in which they are enrolled, use of locator tests, EFL levels and the state policy on the number of hours of instruction to be provided between pretest and posttest.

Exceptions to Test Publisher-Recommended Posttest Guidelines

Exceptions to the posttest guidelines recommended by test publishers should be limited and rare. Only under special exceptions may students be posttested at less than the time recommended by the test publisher. Factors to consider are those that impact learning gains, such as intensity/duration of instruction, learner motivation, quality of instruction, the link between learner goals and instruction, and whether a student must leave the course of instruction for reasons beyond his or her control. If a student indicates he or she is leaving the program before the scheduled posttest time, the teacher, counselor and/or test administrator should consult with the student to determine if it would be appropriate to posttest the student before he or she exits the program. However, this in itself is not enough reason to posttest prior to publisher recommendations.

Programs must have some type of documentation, such as a portfolio of work or informal assessments that indicate the student has made progress, before the program makes the decision to administer a posttest at less instructional hours than recommended by the test publisher. Each exception to administering a posttest to a student before the publishers’ recommended hours of instruction must be approved by the local administrator or designee, and must be noted in the program’s data reporting system. The approval must be retained in the student's record and be made available for review upon request for FDOE monitoring purposes.

Tests for Adult Basic Education (TABE) 9 & 10

Grade Equivalents

Grade equivalents (GE) are intended to indicate achievement levels in the educational structure of elementary and secondary schools. GE is a score developed to indicate the school grade (usually measured in months) that corresponds to an average chronological age, mental age, test score, or other characteristic of an elementary or secondary student. A GE of 6.4 represents a score that is average for a student in the fourth month of grade six. GEs do not compose a scale of equal intervals and cannot be added, subtracted, or averaged across test levels the way scale scores can. GEs do not have comparable meaning in programs that focus on the education and training of adults.

Scoring and Alignment with NRS

The following tables show the scale scores for placement and progression of ABE students using TABE 9 & 10. Scale scores are used for NRS reporting and represent a more meaningful measure than Grade Equivalents to assess educational gain over time. Students should be placed in an initial EFL and considered for promotion to the next EFL based on scale scores rather than on Grade Equivalents.

TABLE 3: TABE 9/10 GE AND CONTENT RANGES

The TABE 9/10 has a Standard Deviation of plus or minus two years when using grade-level equivalents. The chart below will assist you in making decisions as to whether the student was tested on an inappropriate level of the TABE, or if the content range of material is appropriate for the student using either grade equivalents or scale scores. If a student scores two grade levels above or below the content range of the test administered, it is good educational practice to retest the student using a different test and form. TABE 9/10 recommends using the locator to determine which pretest to administer.

This table shows the relationship between the TABE levels and the GE and Content Ranges. If a student scores + or – two (2) grade levels outside the content range, the student should be retested on another level of the TABE.

SECTION III: NRS TEST BENCHMARKS FOR ADULT EDUCATIONAL FUNCTIONING LEVELS

Programs must use scale scores when reporting results of assessments. Scale scores linked to basic skill competencies provide more meaningful information than grade equivalents, which can carry a negative connotation for the adult education participants. Scale scores may aid interpretation by indicating how a given score compares to those of other test takers, by enhancing the comparability of scores obtained using different forms or a test or in other ways. Scale scores enhance comparability across different test forms of the same test. Scaling may be used to place scores from different levels of an achievement test on a continuous scale and thereby facilitate inferences about growth or development (Standards for Educational and Psychological Testing, American Educational Research Association (AERA), American Psychological Association, (APA) and National Council on Measurement in Education (NCME), 1999).

Level completion is determined when the student’s scale score is at the highest end of an EFL.

Publisher Guidelines on Use of Test Scores from Previous Instructional Periods
Posttest scores may be used for reenrollment purposes. The FDOE recommends that programs follow publisher guidelines for length of time a posttest score is valid for reenrollment or placement. Gaps in program attendance are likely to affect the student’s EFL.

Wonderlic/GAIN
A student’s English and mathematics skill levels can be expected to be relatively stable, unless those skills are in the process of being further developed. Under normal circumstances, Wonderlic indicates it is reasonable to reuse GAIN results for up to 1 year. If, however, the individual is pursuing skill-development activities within that period, then a follow-up administration would be advisable to better inform training placement decisions.
CAL/BEST Plus and BEST Literacy
Posttest scores are valid for a limited time within the program year. If there is a significant gap in attendance (e.g., for longer than one month) due to student absence, or a break in the instructional program, the student should be retested. However, CAL acknowledges that it is not feasible to test students every time they are absent from the program for a period of time.

CASAS
Posttest scores obtained at the end of a semester or other reporting period may serve as a pretest for the next semester or reporting period, provided the date of the last test taken by the student does not exceed four months. Similarly, the most recent assessment results for “stop outs” returning to adult education classes may be used, provided that the last test administered does not exceed the same four-month window. This policy is designed to reduce or eliminate unnecessary testing.

Program personnel may wish to retest “stop outs,” meaning students returning the following semester or reporting period, if they have reason to believe that during the learner’s absence or summer recess, a significant learning intervention occurred that may invalidate the learner’s previous assessment results. In such circumstances, retesting is always an option. The CASAS policy can be downloaded at the CASAS website: http://www.casas.org.

CTB/McGraw Hill/TABE and TABE CLAS-E
CTB does not publish an expiration or valid date for scores. CTB’s position is that the score you received on a certain date is your score/level and after that date, your score can be affected by outside influences.
SECTION IV: ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES OR

Accommodations refer to adjustments made in either instruction or assessment and enable adults with disabilities to participate fully in an academic setting. Accommodations are made to allow the student with a disability (or disabilities) to demonstrate his or her skills and abilities more accurately than if no accommodations were made. Accommodations must meet the needs of the examinee without changing what the test is intended to measure.

Procedures to identify learners with disabilities

Adult education students with disabilities are responsible for self-identification and for requesting any accommodation they may need. Adult education students are also responsible for submitting documentation of their disability.

Adult education programs should provide ongoing counseling to all adult general education students with disabilities, as part of a system that promotes open communication of available services, including providing contacts to service agencies. It is also important to encourage students who may require accommodations to obtain the type of assistance that will assist them to achieve academic success. Once students self-identify their disability, documentation of the disability is essential to obtain in order for the staff to provide optimal advising. Documentation may include a variety of records, including a diagnostic assessment by a licensed medical professional (e.g., psychologist, psychiatrist, neurologist), other relevant records that confirm the diagnosis (i.e., an Adult Education Plan [AEP]), a diagnostic evaluation purchased by the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation or records from the Division of Blind Services. It is recommended that staff work closely with students with disabilities to develop current education plans (e.g., career plan or 504 Plan), and monitor their progress, interests and abilities. See the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 504 and 34 C.F.R. Part 104.

Procedures to administer assessments to learners with disabilities

Accommodations during the assessment process must provide a framework that allows the learner with a disability to demonstrate the skills and knowledge that the test is designed to measure. Upon receiving a request for specific types of accommodations from a learner with a documented disability, the program should give due consideration to the accommodations requested by the learner. Many test accommodations are based on those used by the learner during instruction. All accommodations should be documented in the learner’s career plan, 504 Plan, or other educational plan.

Testing accommodations may include, but are not limited to, the following:
- Flexible schedule - Several brief testing sessions during a day, frequent rest breaks, testing at a different time of day, additional time
- Flexible seating - Individually or in small groups with proctor, study carrel or separate room, special lighting, equipment, acoustics
• Flexible response - Oral response, signed response, response on word processor, or Braille response
• Flexible presentation - Mechanical aids, revised formats such as Braille, large print, signed or oral presentations for directions, and items other than reading items
• Assistive device - Assistive devices typically used in classroom instruction such as visual magnification or auditory amplification devices, calculators (if authorized in test administration manual)
• Flexible Timing - Extended timing for a timed test based on documentation described below. Extended time does not mean “unlimited” time and typically refers to “time and a half,” or “double time.”

Documentation on adult education students with disabilities

Appropriate types of documentation should be kept by local adult educational programs for learners with disabilities who require accommodations. Documentation of the need for specific testing accommodations must be maintained in the learner’s confidential records and be revealed only to authorized individuals. (Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act)

Alternative assessments for learners with disabilities (State Board Rule 6A-6.014)

If an adult student has a documented disability and the assessments listed in this paper and with accommodations are not an accurate measure of the student’s ability, one of the following tests shall be used for placement in an adult general education program (not for NRS reporting):

1. Brigance Employability Skills
2. Brigance Life Skills
3. Comprehensive Test of Adaptive Behaviors (CTAB)
4. Comprehensive Adult Student Assessment System (CASAS)
5. Kaufman Functional Adult Student Assessment System Test (K-FAST)

If an adult student has a documented disability and the instruments listed in this guidance are not an accurate measure of the student’s ability, documentation must be kept showing an attempt was made to assess the student, and the results of this attempt should be kept in the student’s record for audit purposes. The results to be kept for audit purposes are not intended to be used for NRS reporting purposes.

For further information on FDOE policies and procedures regarding accommodations for adult students with disabilities or other special needs, programs may contact the adult education office.
Accommodations Allowed During Assessments for Students with Disabilities

In addition to the state policies previously described, the following is a brief description of the assessments and information on accommodations for students with disabilities.

BEST Literacy

The Center for Applied Linguistics (CAL) provides a range of research-based information, tools, and resources related to language and culture. Assessments available through CAL include BEST Literacy and BEST Plus.

BEST Literacy assesses reading and writing skills. It is administered individually or to groups. The test is timed for one hour. Examinees write directly on the test booklets, and a test administrator scores the responses on the answer sheet. The BEST Literacy Test Manual is needed to administer and score the test. The raw scores received on all three forms are scaled using the tables provided in the Test Manual.

BEST Literacy Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

Users of BEST Literacy are responsible for providing accessible services and for ensuring that requests for accommodations are considered and handled in a manner consistent with applicable laws and regulations. Program and test administrators may provide and allow accommodations in test administration procedures or in the testing environment for individuals with disabilities, provided the accommodation does not compromise the purpose or results of the test. The test is not designed to assess the functional literacy skills of visually impaired students, unless reasonable accommodations can be made that will not interfere with the measurement of functional literacy skills and therefore invalidate the test results. For example, the test administrator cannot read the question to the examinee as BEST Literacy is a test of reading and writing, not listening. Permissible accommodations related to test administration procedures include the use of eyeglasses or magnifying glasses, earplugs, color overlays, or rulers. Testing environment accommodations might include frequent breaks or individual administration.

BEST Plus

BEST Plus assesses the oral English proficiency of adult ESOL students. Oral proficiency is understood as the underlying competency that enables the performance of communicative language functions that integrate both listening and speaking skills. BEST Plus assesses the ability to understand and use unrehearsed, conversational, everyday language within topic areas generally covered in adult ESOL courses.

BEST Plus is designed to assess the English language proficiency of adult (16 years of age or older) nonnative English Language Learners who may or may not have received an education in their native language or in English, but who need to use English to function in day-to-day life in the United States. It is designed for the population of adult ESOL students typically found in adult educational programs.
BEST Plus Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

Users of BEST Plus are responsible for providing accessible services and for ensuring that requests for accommodations are considered and handled in a manner consistent with applicable laws and regulations. Program and test administrators may provide and allow accommodations in test administration procedures or in the testing environment for individuals with disabilities, provided the accommodation does not compromise the purpose or results of the test. For example, the test administrator cannot explain the content of the picture cue prompts to a person with a visual impairment because BEST Plus is not designed to assess the communicative language skills of students with hearing or speech disabilities. A permissible accommodation for BEST Plus would be the use of hearing aids.

BEST Plus can be used with students who can see the photographic stimulus (picture cue prompts) with appropriate accommodations (e.g., the use of a magnifying glass to enlarge the image). BEST Plus is not appropriate for use with individuals whose visual impairment prevents them from seeing the picture cue prompts even when enlarged or otherwise enhanced.

Comprehensive Adult Student Assessment System (CASAS)

The CASAS assessment system has tests that measure basic reading, mathematics, listening, speaking, and writing skills in functional contexts. The system provides for tests that measure levels from beginning literacy and numeracy to GED® preparation.

CASAS Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

The CASAS Assessment Policy Guidelines state: “Accommodations in testing alter the conditions for administering a test or change the nature of an assessment instrument, allowing test takers with disabilities to demonstrate their skills and abilities more accurately. Proper accommodations meet the needs of examinees without changing what a test is intended to measure.”

Accommodations for CASAS procedures are applicable to all CASAS tests and include:

- Accommodations in test time.
- Giving supervised breaks.
- Providing a sign language interpreter for test administration directions only.
- Testing in an alternate room.
- Using a colored overlay.
- Large-print test booklets and answer sheets.
- Allowing extended time.

Additionally, CASAS test forms that may be appropriate for learners with a disability include CASAS eTests, computer-adapted and computer-based tests, and large-print tests. CASAS large-print tests include Beginning Literacy Reading Assessment, ECS test booklets, Life and Work test booklets, and Secondary Level Assessment test booklets in mathematics. Large-print answer sheets are also available. A Life and Work test form in Braille format measures basic literacy skills for learners who are blind or have a visual impairment.
It is not an appropriate accommodation in test administration procedures to read a CASAS reading test to a learner with low literacy skills or blindness. The paper, Guidelines for Providing Accommodations Using CASAS Assessment for Learners with Disabilities, provides more detailed information on providing accommodations. This document is available at http://www.casas.org.

Wonderlic GAIN Tests

The GAIN is designed to evaluate English and mathematics skills as described in the six Educational Functioning Levels (EFLs) defined by the NRS. GAIN assesses skills ranging from basic literacy and numeracy to the more advanced skills that are typically taught as part of secondary education.

GAIN Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

The GAIN Administrator Guide states as follows: “A reasonable accommodation should allow the test score to reflect the test taker’s skills rather than reflect the test taker’s impairment, and should allow the test taker with a disability (or disabilities) to demonstrate his or her skills and abilities more accurately than if no accommodations were allowed. Additionally, a major focus of the ADA is that reasonable accommodation is not effectively addressed by a general policy; rather accommodations are best addressed only on a case-by-case basis.”

The GAIN Administrator Guide provides the following examples of reasonable accommodations:

- Providing extra time to complete the GAIN
- Providing rest breaks for test takers
- Assuring that the test site is accessible to a person with a mobility issue

Tests of Adult Basic Education (TABE)

TABE 9/10 focuses on assessing the basic literacy and numeracy skills that will help a person function well in society. These tests provide information about the relative ranking of examinees against a norms group, as well as specific information about the instructional needs of examinees. In addition, results provide prescriptive information about individual students that allows instructors to easily identify and implement meaningful remediation strategies.

TABE 9/10 tests enable teachers and administrators to evaluate and successfully place examinees in ABE programs. Other uses of TABE 9/10 scores include pretesting and posttesting to measure educational growth, determine correct placement of new examinees in instructional programs, and the evaluation of adult educational programs.
TABE Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

TABE outlines a framework with assessment accommodations in three categories.

Category 1 accommodations are not expected to influence examinee performance in a way that alters the interpretation of either criterion or norm-referenced test scores. Scores from examinees in this category should be interpreted and reported in the same way as scores of examinees who take the test under standard conditions. No notation is necessary. Category 2 accommodations may have an effect on examinee performance that should be considered when interpreting and reporting scores. Category 3 accommodations may also have an effect on examinee performance that should be considered when interpreting and reporting scores. For additional information on these categories, refer to the CTB/ McGraw-Hill document “TABE 9/10 Survey Test Directions” booklet or http://www.ctb.com.

Examples of the types of accommodations in each category include:

- Category 1: Take the test alone or in a study carrel.
- Category 2: Use extra testing time for a timed test.
- Category 3: Use a calculator for a mathematical computation test.

TABE 9/10 is available in large print, Braille, and audio.

TABE CLAS-E

TABE CLAS-E assesses English proficiency levels to measure accurately students' reading, listening, writing, and speaking skills. TABE CLAS-E may be administered to students enrolled in the Adult ESOL Course #9900040, which is supported with federal funds. It is also approved for use in the following courses funded with State Workforce Education funds: Citizenship, Academic Skills, and Workplace Readiness for ESOL. TABE CLAS-E is not appropriate for use with students enrolled in the ELCATE Course. ELCATE students who take TABE CLAS-E would likely not be able to demonstrate the knowledge and skills they have learned because the course competencies do not align to that test.

TABE CLAS-E Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

TABE CLAS-E provides large-print editions to accommodate examinees with special needs:

- Large-Print Edition Locator Test
- Large-Print Edition Language Proficiency Tests, Forms A and B
- Expository Writing Folios are incorporated in Large-Print Edition Test Books.
SECTION V: TRAINING REQUIREMENTS

Timelines and Procedures for Training of Local Program Test Administration Staff

All persons who administer state-approved assessments must first receive training on how to administer them. The test publishers are responsible for the content and the training materials. However, in some cases as noted below, the FDOE will provide either local training or virtual training options.

The FDOE requires that programs follow test publisher’s guidelines regarding the initial training, as well as the length of time that test administrators or staff should take refresher trainings. Table 6 describes the recommendations of each test publisher for each state-approved assessment. In addition to the information in Table 6, the FDOE recommends that test administrators and persons who report NRS data receive supplemental training, as appropriate, when new instruments or forms are added to the acceptable assessments list.

Number of local staff trained as testers
The FDOE recommends that LEAs and CBOs plan appropriately to ensure that an adequate number of test administrators are available to administer pretests and posttests to the students who need them. Certain times of the program year may require that more students be pretested or posttested than at other times. Local program administrators should contact the adult education office to plan for training opportunities for local test administrators and staff. Check the training opportunities on the training calendar at http://www.floridaipdae.org on a regular basis.

Record of trained test administrators

FDOE follows the test publisher’s training requirements unless otherwise noted in the Table 6. The FDOE may impose stricter training requirements as noted with the TABE. For trainings required by the publisher, please note in Table 6 if the publisher certifies the trainer. Please refer to the publisher’s website for more information about training requirements. Publishers maintain certification records of all persons trained. FDOE maintains records of persons trained in TABE 101 (initial training). The following information should be recorded as verification and/or certification that the person completed the training:

- Name of the test
- Type of training provided (Initial/Refresher)
- Name of the certified test administrator
- Name and contact information of the trainee
- Date of the training

Quality Control Procedures

Maintenance of Test Security

Florida Department of Education Rule 6A-10.042, F.A.C., includes maintenance of test security. For more information refer to Appendix D. Additionally, all test administrators must follow the security protocol that is outlined by test publishers.

Section 1008.24, Florida Statutes, states that violations of test security guidelines are a first-degree misdemeanor punishable by a fine of up to $1,000, six months in jail, and loss of teaching certificate. Any suspected violations of test security must be reported to the local assessment director’s office and the FDOE, Adult Education Office. The FDOE will advise the test publisher of the incident. All test security compromise incidents should be documented by the program and include a summary of the events associated with the incident, along with any appropriate statements from the parties involved. Programs may also be required to stipulate what actions, if any, will be implemented to prevent a similar occurrence in the future.

Recording Test Data
Testing data should be entered into the program database as soon as possible after completion of the test. It is strongly recommended that the data be entered no later than the time the student completes the initial 12 hours of instructional activity for state enrollment purposes. In addition, learning gains resulting from the administration of post-assessments should be entered into the program database as soon as possible after completion of the posttest.

Data quality checks
FDOE recommends local programs put in place procedures to address the following:
- Data integrity checks
- System logic to prevent inappropriate assessments being entered
- Incorrect score gains
- Data verification procedures
- Records of trained test administrators
- Orientation to tests for students

Training of program staff involved in NRS reporting activities
FDOE will provide training via webinars or other virtual means for teachers and other program staff involved in gathering, analyzing, compiling, and reporting data for NRS purposes. The training schedule will be listed at http://www.floridaipdae.org. These trainings may include the following topics:
- Using Data Reports for Program Improvement
- Validating Adult Education Data Submissions
- NRS policy, accountability policies, and data collection process

Use of Test Administration Manuals
The FDOE requires local programs to follow the test administration guidelines in each Test Administration Manual (TAM) furnished by the assessment publishers. All local programs should maintain copies of TAMs on site for all assessments used with the program. TAMs provide quality-control guidelines to ensure proper test use, administration, scoring, and interpretation of results.

Program Assessment Procedures Manual
All programs are recommended to establish an assessment procedures manual to ensure that all program staff are aware of FDOE policies and adhere to the program’s assessment procedures. Any procedures developed by the local program must be in alignment with FDOE assessment policies.

The assessment procedures should include at a minimum:
- A statement that all students enrolled must be pretested with a state-approved assessment during the first 12 hours of instruction.
- A procedure that will ensure that only those individuals who have successfully completed a test administrator training will administer tests to students.
• A statement on how pretest scores will be used to establish the student’s initial functioning level.
• A statement on how posttest scores will be used to measure the student’s progress from one level to another and to report learning gains made by students.
• A copy of the EFL Table from the NRS with the scale scores of each test for reference when placing students and reporting any gains.
• A statement on the number of hours of instruction that students must participate in between pretest and posttest.
• A statement that persons who administer state-approved assessments must adhere to the test publisher’s guidelines.
• A procedure for recording testing data in a timely manner.
• Process and procedures to verify that correct procedures have been followed (see previous section that lists areas to be addressed).
• A procedure on the steps the local adult education program director will take to review and verify the accuracy of data reports generated by the program prior to being submitted to the state.
• A procedure for documenting and reporting of test security compromise incidents and loss of testing materials to FDOE.
• A procedure for destroying damaged or obsolete test materials.
• Procedures that address the Data Quality Checks.

SECTION VI: DISTANCE EDUCATION

NRS Reporting Procedures for Distance Education
Distance Education is a formal learning activity where students and instructors are separated by geography, time, or both for the majority of the instructional period. Distance learning materials are delivered through a variety of media including, but not limited to, print, audio recording, videotape, broadcasts, computer software, web-based programs and other online technology. Teachers support distance learners through communications via mail, telephone, e-mail or online technologies and software.

Definition of distance learners
Distance learners are students who receive over 51% of their instruction online and as defined above. For learners who receive both distance education and traditional classroom instruction during a program year (such as a blended distance/classroom approach or concurrent enrollment in both types of instruction), the student should be counted either as a distance education student or a traditional student, not both, based on which instructional modality was used the majority of the time.
Criteria for enrollment and federal reporting purposes – 12 hour rule
Students in distance education courses, like those in courses using traditional instructional methods, must have 12 hours of contact within those courses before they can be counted for federal reporting purposes. Contact hours for distance learners can be a combination of actual contact and contact through telephone, video, teleconference or online communication, where student and program staff can interact and through which learner-identity is verifiable.

Note: The FDOE does not require that instructional contact hours for distance learners be reported to the FDOE for state Full-Time Equivalency (FTE) tracking purposes. Florida does not collect and report proxy hours.

NRS implementation guidelines for assessment of distance education students
Programs must administer all pretests and posttests used to measure the educational gain of distance education students for NRS reporting in person, at a proctored program site, in accordance with the FDOE policies outlined in this technical assistance paper. Assessments not conducted through face-to-face interaction with a trained test administrator in a secure setting are not allowed for NRS reporting. Students in distance education should be posttested after the same amount of instructional time as other students.

Reporting assessment data of distance education students for NRS purposes
Data on distance education students should be included in overall totals for all NRS tables as appropriate. Students who complete more than 51 percent of their instruction online will be reported in NRS Table 4C. Students enrolled in courses using traditional instructional methods 50% or more are reported in NRS Table 4. However, data on distance educational programs must be disaggregated and reported separately in NRS Table 4C and NRS Table 5A to the FDOE. Only distance education students are to be reported in these tables, and all contact hours associated with distance education students are to be reported in NRS Table 4C.

Online curricula for distance learning
FDOE provides the curriculum frameworks for all adult education courses on the state’s adult education web page. All programs that provide adult educational services with state funding are required to use the state curriculum standards for instruction. A consortium of thirty-five member institutions (school districts and colleges), the Florida Adult and Technical Distance Education Consortium (FATDEC), delivers curricula in a web-based environment for adult education and career and technical programs in Florida.

The courses are teacher directed and delivered via the Internet through a Learning Management System product called “Educator” by UCompass.com. The courses are hosted in a secure environment, and users are provided technical support by the company. Each school or district remains autonomous in its admissions and registration process. An appointed administrator in each school or district enrolls students in the online courses with a secure user identification and password. The Learning Management System, Educator, which houses GED® and adult high school courses, has the ability to track student time in a course.

The highest value of an EFL range indicates the student has completed an EFL.

An LCP is awarded upon completion of an EFL. For example, if a student scores 180 on a posttest, the program may claim LCP A.

* Academic Skills is a separate course of the ESOL Program that may not be offered at a particular program. EFL 7 is not reported to the NRS.
