Because of the significant impact dual enrollment can have in terms of access and acceleration in postsecondary education, identifying policies and best practices to enhance the delivery of dual enrollment has been a priority for Florida's state leaders over the past several years. To further support these efforts, the Florida Student Success Center is publishing findings from research that identifies scalable best practices districts and institutions can implement to promote student success in dual enrollment programs, particularly early admission and early college programs.

In this webinar, you will learn:

- The landscape of early college and early admissions programs in Florida.
- Design components and common practices for these acceleration opportunities.
- Best practices for school district-postsecondary partnerships.
- More information about an open opportunity for districts and colleges to receive in-depth technical assistance and targeted technical support through the Florida Student Success Center.

This webinar is designed for school and district counselors and college staff and administrators who work on dual enrollment.
