

K-2 Progress Monitoring Resources

The following list contains links to assessment resources that range from screening to progress monitoring and standardized assessment practice.

- Newhaus Education Center:
 - Screening assessments for reading comprehension (grades 2-5) as well as oral language and word knowledge (grades K-6): <http://neuhaus.org/screening-measures/>
 - Mastery check (consumable) resources for assessing a variety of literacy skills: <http://www.readingteachersnetwork.org/tools/> <http://neuhaus.org/consumables/>
- easyCBM contains screening and progress monitoring resources for assessing reading comprehension (grades 2-8), passage fluency (grades 1-8), word reading fluency (grades K-3), and phoneme segmentation (grades K-1):
https://www.easycbm.com/info/reading_assessments.php
- North Dakota Department of Public Instruction website contains links to K-4th grade reading assessments, including comprehension:
<http://www.dpi.state.nd.us/title1/resource/select/index.shtm>
- MOTIF includes the Test of Everyday Comprehension (TERC), among other tests, including phonetic and spelling components: <http://www.motif.org.au/index.php/home>
- This Website contains timed reading comprehension assessments at the elementary level:
http://englishteststore.net/index.php?option=com_content&view=article&id=33&Itemid=31
- Daily Teaching Tools contains 10 reading comprehension practice tests:
<http://www.dailyteachingtools.com/free-reading-tests.html>
<http://www.lapresenter.com/Short%20Practice%20Reading%20Tests.pdf>
- The Reading Sage Website contains the Texas Assessment of Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) of reading/English language arts, math, social studies, and science for grades 3-11: <http://reading-sage.blogspot.com/2011/03/free-reading-comprehension-test-online.html>
- Oral Reading Fluency Passage Generator: <http://www.interventioncentral.org/teacher-resources/oral-reading-fluency-passages-generator> The passage generator is an online resource that converts any text into an assessment passage for administering a fluency assessment. Oral Reading Fluency is a quick means of identifying a student's independent reading development and determining whether decoding intervention is needed.