Core Curriculum

Please indicate your core curriculum and how its use by the students served is supported by strong evidence, moderate evidence, or promising evidence.

K-5: Reading Wonders is the core ELA curriculum. Components of Reading Wonders along with various supplemental resources are utilized to provide comprehensive reading instruction that is standard aligned, print rich, systematic, and promotes differentiated responsive instruction. Trainings and materials have been provided to support the use of high quality small group instruction during the reading block to ensure instruction is scaffolded and specifically designed to meet varying student needs. The impact of McGraw-Hill Education's Reading Wonders on elementary school students' reading proficiency was examined through the use of a convergent parallel mixed methods design. In total, 239 students enrolled in 12 third grade classes at six Title I public elementary schools in a rural North Carolina school district participated in the study. Data from the North Carolina End-of-Grade reading assessment and the Reading 3D statewide assessment during the first full year of Reading Wonders implementation (2014-2015 school year) were analyzed. The Reading 3D assessment is comprised of two other assessments of early reading and comprehension: Dynamic Indicators of Basic Early Literacy Skills (DIBELS) and Text Reading Comprehension (TRC). Participating teachers were also surveyed to evaluate their perceptions of the effectiveness of Reading Wonders. Results revealed a statistically significant increase of DIBELS scores for students using Reading Wonders from the beginning of the year to the end of the school year, $p < .01$. On average, DIBELS composite scores for third graders in Reading Wonders classes increased by 128 units from fall 2014 to spring 2015. 6-12 Core curriculum is grade level Florida standards aligned with the use of the district adopted textbook (Collections or Springboard)

For more than three school years, Collections has been rigorously tested, demonstrating that both pre-test high-scoring and low-scoring students improved their language skills—the latter most of all (see link)

<https://www.hmhco.com/programs/collections/research-and-results>

SpringBoard has been shown to improve both engagement in the classroom and readiness for college. One nationwide study, comparing SpringBoard and non-SpringBoard schools, showed a considerable increase in the number of students enrolled in AP Exams and courses, as well as increased SAT performance. (See link) <https://springboard.collegeboard.org/about/springboard-works?state=fl> and lesson plans directed around providing quality core instruction all of which are strategies that show strong evidence via what works clearinghouse:

- Standards-Based Lesson Planning
- Teacher Clarity
- Direct Instruction
- Peer Collaboration and Accountable talk
- Independent practice and Application
- Student Ownership of learning
- Inclusion of Disciplinary Literacy and Content Area Literacy Strategies

What procedures are in place to identify and solve problems to improve effectiveness of Tier 2 intervention, including alignment with core curriculum and instruction?

At the district level, the executive directors of elementary and secondary schools in collaboration with the directors of curriculum and instruction and the ELA and ELL program specialists (at each level) will be responsible for the fidelity of interventions. Pupil Support personnel support the whole child as well as their academic needs. Teams of administrators and district leaders will be participating in professional learning to enhance their skill in recognizing appropriate interventions. Through instructional rounds, teams will visit classrooms throughout the district and visit PLCS to monitor fidelity and effectiveness of tier 2 interventions. Grade level Decision Trees are given to each instructor to plan for and modify the effectiveness of tier 2 reading interventions. (K-12)

Explain how the use of the programs/materials/strategies is supported by strong evidence, moderate evidence, or promising evidence.

Elementary

Each intervention has reported as showing strong evidence of assisting readings via What Works Clearinghouse. All programs, materials, and strategies are research-based and have strong evidence of effectiveness. Programs, materials, and strategies are grounded in strong pedagogy for teaching and learning. Student data is always closely monitored to provide strong evidence support the use of the identified programs, materials, and strategies. Intensive individualized interventions for struggling readers show strong evidence according to What Works Clearinghouse (see link)

How are Tier 2 interventions modified for students who receive interventions through distance learning?

For students who receive interventions through distance learning, interventions will be modified to fit the distance learning platform. For example, teachers may need to meet one on one or utilize breakout rooms to listen to a child read aloud and provide coaching and feedback. Materials may also need be modified. For example, teachers may use digital letter tiles (<http://www.reallygreatreading.com/lettertiles/>) instead of actual letter tiles (K-5).

Teachers will make frequent calls to students and do one on one Zoom meetings to assist with student understanding. Teachers will chunk their lesson into smaller units. Contacts by liaisons and guidance will be done if students need further assistance (6-12).

IF: I-Ready Diagnostic data indicates that the student is performing two levels below in Reading, and/or the student is demonstrating intensive reading needs in core instruction (K-5).
or
Student meets the following criteria at beginning of school year: students who scored below a level 2 on the prior year's reading FSA (6-12). For 2019-2020 missing FSA data, schools will use the 2018/2019 FSA scores along with teacher recommendations, IReady progress (6-8), and USA Test Prep Data indicating grade level progress (9-12).

What procedures are in place to identify and solve problems to improve effectiveness of Tier 3 intervention, including alignment with core curriculum and instruction?

The directors of curriculum and instruction at each level, elementary and secondary, and the director of research and assessment will have access to the data. As they meet with individual school principals, they will include this in their discussions. At the district level, the executive directors of elementary and secondary schools in collaboration with the directors of curriculum and instruction and the ELA and ELL program specialists (at each level) will be responsible for the fidelity of interventions. Pupil Support personnel support the whole child as well as their academic needs. Teams of administrators and district leaders will be participating in professional learning to enhance their skill in recognizing appropriate interventions. Through instructional rounds, teams will visit classrooms throughout the district. All teachers have access to their grade level Decision Tree as well as sample strategies for tier three (3) intervention.

Explain how the use of the programs/materials/strategies is supported by strong evidence, moderate evidence, or promising evidence.

Elementary

Based on the findings from What Works Clearinghouse, the procedures and materials exhibit strong evidence of student improvement. All programs, materials, and strategies are research-based and have strong evidence of effectiveness. Programs, materials, and strategies are grounded in strong pedagogy for teaching and learning. Student data is always closely monitored to provide strong evidence support the use of the identified programs, materials, and strategies. Reading recovery is highly successful with lowest performing elementary students and shows strong evidence (see link) https://my.readingrecovery.org/docs/FINAL-ESSA_Reading_Recovery_Leadership_Info_and_Guidance_May_2017.pdf IReady meets ESSA Evidence-Based requirements and show moderate evidence requirements (see link) <https://www.curriculumassociates.com/research-and-efficacy/i-ready-evidence-impact>

Achieve 3000 demonstrates positive impact on student reading achievement. In particular students have individualized interventions which show strong evidence (see link) <https://ies.ed.gov/ncee/wwc/PracticeGuide/8>

ESSA recognizes the programs for demonstrating strong evidence of efficacy based on results from third-party randomized controlled study (see link) <https://www.achieve3000.com/why-achieve3000/proven-academic-results/>

How are Tier 3 interventions modified for students who receive interventions through distance learning?

(K-5) For students who receive interventions through distance learning, interventions will be modified to fit the distance learning platform including the use of digital materials and the format of the intervention. For example, teachers may use digital letter tiles (<http://www.reallygreatreading.com/lettertiles/>) instead of actual letter tiles.

(6-12) Students will have both weekly check-ins with their core area ELA teacher and their Intensive Reading teacher, one on one online meetings will be conducted by each teacher (each week) to assist the student.
