- Listen to the research. Know and understand the science of reading and the neuroscience behind dyslexia.
- Learn strategies, accommodations, interventions. We all have dyslexic students in our classrooms...how do we help them succeed?
- Lead in your classrooms, schools and districts. Leadership is not about title or position. Leadership is about your ability to influence others and make an impact.

What's New This Year?

Our keynote speaker, Ameer Baraka is a dyslexic who did not learn to read until he was an adult, as his dyslexia was not diagnosed when he was a child. The story of his descent into a life of crime, and his ascent from that life to become a successful actor, producer, and mentor to youth throughout the country is as enlightening as it is inspirational. Now the author of The Life I Chose...The Streets Lied to Me, Ameer knows all about the temptations and “traps” of growing up poor, Black, and illiterate on the streets of New Orleans. From dealing drugs to doing time in prison, this juvenile delinquent turned actor, author, and educator will share his story, and his mission.

In addition to Ameer and a distinguished roster of speakers, the Spotlight on Dyslexia event experience will also offer:

- Up to 20 CE certificates.
- Live polling, Q&As, and the opportunity to communicate directly with speakers.
- Live networking opportunities.
- On-the-go mobile app which will allow attendees to stream the event from anywhere.
