Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) Customer Success Stories Series

Both the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act and the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, along with Florida state law, support transition and assisting with preparing students with disabilities for life after high school. One way schools and local VR offices work together to support students is through the collaboration to refer and arrange the provision of pre-employment transition services or pre-ETS. Please be sure to check out the VR Customer Success Stories over the next few weeks and learn how VR has helped support students with their postsecondary goals.

This week meet Charles Paeden, Jr., who is an aspiring chemical engineer and graduated cum laude with a Bachelor of Science from the University of Florida (UF). Charles has always enjoyed science and math, and has a strong background in academia and research. While attending UF, he placed fourth in a design competition that incorporated biology and engineering to entertain children awaiting treatment at Shands Children’s Hospital. He also received the Best Engineer Award in a program designed for freshman to excel in industry and research. Charles is autistic and has attention deficit hyperactivity disorder. Although his symptoms have presented some Charles does not recall the first time he learned about VR, but began working with VR in high school. VR has helped Charles succeed in many aspects of his life, especially the confidence he gained in his ability to overcome any obstacles that may come his way. In 2019, Charles moved to Jacksonville on his own where he started part-time as a laboratory assistant at Isel. He is able to utilize his chemical engineering degree by being in charge of the quality control specimens and is part of the developing process for new formulations. He now works there full time and really enjoys the research and development aspect of his job. Charles says, “This is my dream job. I hope to continue to grow within the company.”

Cracking the Behavior Code:
A Book Study for Educators based on The Behavior Code by Jessica Minahan, MEd, BCBA

Hosted by: FSU CARD
Facilitated by: Cindy Collier, Crystal Grey-Hewett, and Tammy Dasher

About the Author and Facilitators
Jessica Minahan is a licensed and board-certified behavior analyst (BCBA), author, special educator, and consultant to schools internationally. Since 2000 she has worked with students who struggle with mental health issues and challenging behaviors in public school systems. She specializes in training staff and creating behavior intervention plans for students who demonstrate explosive and unsafe behavior. In The Behavior Code, she reveals a systematic approach for deciphering causes and patterns of difficult behaviors and how to match them with proven strategies for getting students back on track so they can learn effectively.

Facilitators Cindy Collier, Crystal Grey-Hewett, and Tammy Dasher
Dr. Cindy Collier is a former special educator, school psychologist, and special education administrator who has worked with those with challenging needs for 37 years. Crystal Grey-Hewett is a social worker who has worked with people on the spectrum, their families, and professionals for over 12 years. Tammy Dasher is a special educator and BCBA who has worked with students with emotional and behavior challenges for 28 years.
