Celebrating Deaf Awareness Month and National Week of the Deaf

Clarke Schools for Hearing and Speech (Clarke Florida) teach children who are deaf or hard of hearing to listen and talk by building the listening, learning and spoken language skills needed to help infants, children and teens, and their families, succeed. Clarke Florida has many student success stories and would like to shine a spotlight on one particular student, Garrett, who found his passion and overcame his struggles and now helps other students.

Garrett has a bilateral hearing loss, and when he was 18 months old, he began his journey at Clarke Florida in Jacksonville. Today, he excels at his neighborhood high school in St. John's County and takes honors classes. Garrett has a passion for music and has been playing the piano for five years. He is an advocate for his peers who are deaf and hard of hearing. Garrett has shared his listening and spoken language journey at the Florida Senate, as well as with families of young children who are newly diagnosed. To listen along as Garrett shares his love for music and demonstrates that children who are deaf or hard of hearing have infinite possibilities, go to https://vimeo.com/487413926.
